Localizing the Global: Cities and International Women's Rights

Tuesday, March 16, 7 PM
with Heidi Nichols Haddad

Heidi Haddad, Associate Professor of Politics and International Relations at Pomona College, will examine the growing phenomenon of local women's rights initiatives, including US Cities and counties adopting laws to implement the UN Convention to Eliminate All forms of Discrimination Against Women. She teaches courses in international relations, human rights, NGOs, urban development and global governance.

The "Global Issues Programs" are free and open to the public. This month's program honors International Women's Day. Please contact cmartin335@gmail.com or martina.ebert@pomona.edu for Zoom information.
